

Procedures are used for two reasons

- Making the code more understandable by grouping together multiple instructions performing a particular task.
- Removing repetition of certain code which is used multiple times in a program.

Our focus

- Load word (lw) and store word (sw) instructions
- Saving data to and later retrieving it from Stack